

The Chatham Cod at picnic fashion

Much maligned, often referred to as the “lowly fish” or the most unattractive in the Atlantic, and yet the reason for Europeans venturing to the unwelcoming shores of New England, the codfish has found new life on Cape Cod. Artist and graphic designer, Andrew Newman has given the ubiquitous cod a place in the world of art and humor. His cod cards celebrate all of life’s holidays, joy, beauty, and sometimes sadness.

Why, one wonders, would an artist use the cod as his muse? For Andrew it was a natural evolution. Living on Cape Cod, in the midst of such dramatic scenery provided seemingly endless inspiration for him, and listening to the dropped r’s of native speakers completed his vision. Cape Cod has taken the cod to new heights, infusing it with whimsy, humor, and love.

Meet with the artist and see his newest cod—The Chatham Cod, at picnic fashion, on Friday, July 2nd, from 4 to 6 pm. He will be signing posters, prints, cards, and postcards that are on sale. The Chatham Cod is available exclusively at picnic fashion which is located at 726 Main Street, Chatham.
